Online Business Card Sources

There was a previous discussion about online business card sources. Can someone recommend a good one for me? Roger T. Minor

Staples or officedepot.com have been good to use. I have heard vistaprint are cheap and flimsy. The ones I bought from officedepot are good quality, plain vanilla business cards. Mazen Salfit

Thus far, I've used Kinko's (I provided them with a master from which they reproduced the cards). I'm very happy with the cards I received from them, and they have a good range of colors. Jon Cohen, Cincinnati, Ohio

I concur re the quality of service at Office Depot and Staples. I have used them both in the past.

I use sfcooper.com. Very good quality, good price.

Leanna Hamill

Try this company for business cards or anything else you may need; they do very nice and professional work. <http://www.expressaprint.com/>

Jason Shyres

Vista print. Very Good

Robert Strupp

I use designyourowncard.com

You can also call Stuart F. Cooper & Co. They're based in Los Angeles and have plants throughout the country. Their focus is on lawyers and they create stationery and business cards for many of the large law firms and thousands of solos And they will help design a card for you, without extra charge, if you're so interested. Be sure that you include your e-mail address on the card. It still amazes me how many lawyers still fail to do this ...

Edward Poll, Venice, California

I've gotten mine from www.iprint.com .
